DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed June 2, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
2. Applicants contend that since Takashi JP 2000-183523 does not recite the phrase "dry film resist", it is not taught or suggested by Takashi.
3. In response to Applicants contention that Takashi fails to use the term "dry film resist", it is well known in the art to develop patterns with photolithography as described by Takashi in [0003] and [0006]. It would be difficult at best to pattern films with a wet resist film. Furthermore, it is well known that printed-circuit boards would use a pattern-exposed negative after it was developed (i.e., processed and dried) to carry out the claimed invention.
